

Private Trainers

MINT is an upscale modern urban health club and spa serving an affluent population of Washington DC professionals. Our Dupont Circle location has thrived for over six years, and our beautiful new Downtown Washington DC location, located in the heart of the very busy business district, has been open for one year. We are seeking full time, career minded trainers for both our Dupont and Downtown locations, especially with morning available.

With top of the line equipment, our naturally bright and spacious training floors are the ideal environments for skilled Private Trainers to partner with clients. We offer Training Services to Members and Non-members with many options for customizing Training programs for optimal results. Visit www.mintdc.com/personal-training for more information.
